

NYS AFC 2018 Seminar Series

“Thermal Imaging: Expanding Your Horizons”

This 3-hour seminar will include two segments – a lecture outlining the various uses of fire service thermal imagers (TI), followed by an audiovisual presentation and projection of a thermal imager utilizing telemetry. Instructors will demonstrate several uses of a thermal imager at a department drill, thus increasing the understanding of these units and showing how they can be used at incidents other than structure fires. For example, students will learn how a thermal imager can aid firefighters at motor vehicle accidents, haz-mat incidents, searches for lost victims in wooded areas, wildland fires, and to discover escaping vapors. This seminar will help firefighters learn how to use this tool to its full potential and maximize their department’s investment in this state-of-the-art equipment.
