“Ulster Tomorrow” Leaders To Thank County Legislature For Support

Ulster County Legislative Chairman David B. Donaldson will be giving “Privilege of the Floor” time to representatives of “Ulster Tomorrow” at the Legislature’s February 13 meeting. The “Ulster Tomorrow” team to be introduced will include newly-elected UCDC Chairman Ron Marquette; Ulster County Development Corporation (UCDC) President Lance Matteson; “Ulster Tomorrow” Steering Committee Chair Tony Marmo and Industrial Development Agency Chair March Gallagher.

“While the Legislature is quite familiar with ‘Ulster Tomorrow’ initiatives for County-wide sustainable economic development, our objective here is to provide a supportive focus by presenting the new leadership team and to ensure that this legislative body will do all we can to help them succeed with a very ambitious but fully achievable plan,” commented Chairman Donaldson.

“This will be our opportunity to thank these legislators for their vote of confidence when they significantly added to last year’s allocation of funds for the UCDC,” said Matteson. “The increase followed our introduction of ‘Ulster Tomorrow,’ a strong signal that they share our views on how to improve living standards and the quality of life throughout Ulster County.”

Marquette added: “We are pleased that this beneficial partnership between the Legislature and all of us associated with ‘Ulster Tomorrow’ appears to be stronger than ever. On Wednesday night we will assure them that our reconstituted UCDC is working hard and as effectively as we can to merit their confidence.”
