A Local Law Prohibiting Cyber-Bullying In Ulster County

BE IT ENACTED, by the Legislature of the County of Ulster, as follows:

SECTION 1. LEGISLATIVE INTENT.

In the many ways that bullying is done, perpetrators of cyber-bullying are often more extreme in the threats and taunts they inflict on their victims than perpetrators of other forms of bullying. Perpetrators of cyber-bullying do not actually see their victim's emotional reaction to the information that is sent out over the internet. Cyber-bullying is often done anonymously.

Cyber-bullying follows its victims everywhere they go and can occur at any time of the day or night because cyber-bullying is perpetrated online or through text or picture messages on cellular phones and other hand-held devices. Technology has allowed this emotional violence to attack our children at any time whether at school or at home. Often times these attacks can originate outside the jurisdiction of the school and/or may be beyond a school's resources.

The Ulster County Legislature recognizes that bullying among children has been a long standing problem throughout the country.

This Legislature hereby finds that with the advent of technology, bullying has transformed from a predominantly school-based issue into a broader societal problem.

This Legislature hereby finds that victims of cyber-bullying suffer very real and serious harm as a result of these incidents. Victims of cyber-bullying often suffer from depression, anxiety, social isolation, nervousness when interacting with technology, and low self-esteem all of which can directly affect the child's performance in and out of school. In some cases, victims attempt to commit suicide or commit suicide in whole or in part because of the cyber-bullying they have endured.

The Ulster County Legislature finds that cyber-bullying is occurring in Ulster County. Therefore, the County must take affirmative action to protect the children of Ulster County from unwanted harassment, threats, abuse, intimidation, and harm to themselves, their reputation, and their relationships with friends, family members, peers, teachers, principals and employers.

A Local Law Prohibiting Cyber-Bullying In Ulster County

To stop cyber-bullying and provide for the protection, safety, well-being, and healthy development of the children of Ulster County, the Legislature determines that it is necessary to proscribe certain expressions of speech by technological means through the enactment of a narrowly tailored local law that prohibits the cyber-bullying of persons under the age of eighteen (18) who are in Ulster County.

Municipal Home Rule Law §10 (12) allows a County to enact a local law for the protection, safety, health, and well-being of a County's residents.

This Legislature hereby finds that the County of Ulster has an interest in providing options to law enforcement which serve to rehabilitate juveniles who have engage in cyber-bullying. These options should include diversion services and community services. These services can assess why the juvenile is committing such acts and divert him or her from committing similar acts in the future while considering the best interest of said juvenile.

The purpose of this local law is to curtail or eliminate cyber-bullying of children in Ulster County and to promote civility during internet usage.
