In today's "always connected" world,
you can live and work right here.

Less than 100 miles from Manhattan, business leaders and entrepreneurs are discovering a better way to do business, raise families, and enjoy an outstanding quality of life — at a fraction of the cost.

Ulster County is a four-season playground. Explore over 350 miles of hiking trails, countless arts and cultural events, renowned restaurants and much more. Paired with an educated workforce and reasonably priced real estate that provides a lower cost of living, there is no better place for any business than Ulster County.

“Living in Ulster County is all about quality of life. Whether you are growing a company or raising kids, it takes a village, and Ulster County really has the people, the talent, and the support networks to thrive on. Ulster County offers a tremendous talent and workforce base.”
