American Addiction Centers

Multiple sites nationwide

Private insurance only

At American Addiction Centers we aim to treat the whole person, which means addressing co-occurring mental illness, physical wellness, and social issues with addiction treatment. In addition to tailored treatment plans, each treatment center has unique amenities for our patients that help aid in recovery, from spa-like environments to equestrian therapies and so much more.

Our Core Therapies: (MI) Motivational Interviewing, (CBT) Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, (REBT) Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy, (DBT) Dialectical Behavior Therapy, (EMDR) Eye Movement Desensitization & Reprocessing

Seeking Safety: Developed by Lisa M. Najavits, PhD, this therapeutic approach is appropriate for the patient who has experienced trauma, such as past sexual, emotional, or physical abuse. This program helps patients learn to cope in healthy ways that don't involve substance use. Patients taking part in the Seeking Safety curriculum can count on their privacy being protected (for example group times and locations are kept confidential), as they work through very difficult and traumatic events.

Medication-Assisted Treatment (MAT)

Medications offered at our programs include buprenorphine, Suboxone, Vivitrol, and Sublocade.

Pharmacogenetic Testing

When it comes to administering any medications, we are committed to providing the very best treatment for you as an individual. AAC is a strong proponent of the field known as Pharmacogenetics, which uses the knowledge of an individual's genetic makeup to inform what medications will be most effective for them in treatment. AAC's Addiction Labs of America process genetic tests within 24-hours, and integrates the knowledge into individual treatment plans.

Expressive and Holistic Therapies

Yoga, Meditation, Pilates, Tai Chi, Fitness, Art, Music or Spiritual Reflection.

Recovery Groups

Our clients have the opportunity to participate in recovery groups while in treatment. Groups such as Narcotics Anonymous and Alcoholics Anonymous that follow the 12-step philosophy are extremely helpful for many people both new to recovery and those who have been in recovery for years.

Alternatives to 12-step groups, such as SMART Recovery, are also offered at AAC programs, for those who are uncomfortable with the 12-step model or the concept of a “higher power”.

Sober Escorts: AAC utilizes the help of retired US Navy Seals to escort our patients safely door-to-door to our facilities when needed. I have used them over a dozen times and they are nothing short of amazing.
